

Media Information

- Greenbuild News is an exciting new website from Hamerville Magazines covering all aspects of sustainable building.
- It provides built environment professionals with a source of news, features, legislation updates, case studies and industry comment on all things sustainable.
- The core readership includes local authorities, housing associations, architects, planners, housebuilders, developers, contractors and consultants.
- Key content includes sections on the Code for Sustainable Homes, BREEAM, legislation, renewables, materials and much more.
- In addition to the site itself there is also a fortnightly newsletter that is emailed to subscribers, highlighting the most up-to-date news on sustainable building.
